

Citrix SD-WAN Advanced Edge Security

Comprehensive security for branch users accessing SaaS, cloud, and virtual apps

As you move applications to the cloud, the complexity and breach attack surface increases

Backhauling cloud traffic for security inspection can negatively impact performance

Breaking out locally from the branch expands the attack surface, exposing the network to threats

Transitioning to multi-cloud may result in a lack of consistent security policies

Citrix SD-WAN offers a comprehensive and fully integrated security stack—designed to protect the WAN edge—right on your SD-WAN branch appliance so you can leverage direct internet paths without risks.

Bringing security closer to users

When implementing local breakout, you need to apply comprehensive security at the edge with similar protection to what you have in your data center.

Citrix SD-WAN edge security enables adoption of local internet breakout and protects against branch and branch-to-branch propagation of threats.

With Citrix SD-WAN's integrated security in the branch, you can securely route users to cloud and SaaS applications via the internet, effectively cutting costs and reducing latency and complexity by not backhauling traffic to the data center.

Holistic edge security

83% of businesses say their organizational and IT complexity is increasing the risk of security breaches. Citrix SD-WAN gives you built-in edge security functionality that you manage centrally.

Mitigate security threats at branches without compromising performance with multi-layer protection including:

- Integrated stateful firewall to monitor, allow, or block traffic based on state, port, and protocols
- Web filtering to block, flag, and monitor searches
- Signature-based IDS/IPS looks for known attacks
- Anti-malware to protect against zero-day threats

Simplicity of a single license and single pane of glass Citrix SD-WAN Advanced Edition offers the simplicity of a single license for networking and security. No more multiple licenses to buy, deploy, and manage.

Citrix Orchestrator provides actionable security reports allowing you to configure and manage security all in one place.

Get comprehensive security at the edge with Citrix SD-WAN Advanced Edition

Learn more at citrix.com/sdwan