Solution Brief

Deliver a better Employee Experience

Provide a workspace with well-being built right in

Seamlessly integrate well-being into a workspace that gives people more of the space they need to be well. Whatever that looks like for them. No extra steps or additional logins required.

The following use case is example that most organizations can implement now for immediate improvements to the employee experience.

Employee Well Being

Deliver a workspace that integrates well-being into the way people like to work.

There's no doubt that employees can benefit from well-being tools that help them better manage the stress and complexities of the workday. But it's getting those tools to them, without adding yet another to-do that's the bigger challenge. Now teams can use Citrix workspace technology, delivering well being tools and resources within an intelligent feed, to improve their overall employee experience.

These employee well-being tools are available via our out-of-the-box template integrations with:

- Citrix Podio*:
  - Good News: Increase employee morale by sharing positivity across the organization
  - Employee Resources: Surface relevant content and FAQs to support employees
  - Surveys: Quick pulse surveys to track and improve employee happiness and well-being
  - Kudos: Kudos, props and polls for recognition and employee engagement
  - Polls: Accomplishments – celebrate your achievements this week

FAQs:

Leveraging Workspace as a System of Record – Tech Preview

What is available?

The Ability for Citrix Workspace to be a system of record for Employee Well Being use cases. This new microapp-based service supports the following functionalities:

- Broadcast – Customize and send a dynamic message to employees' intelligent feeds.
- FAQ – Compile a list of FAQS or table of information, communicated and expandable within employees' intelligent feeds.
- Surveys & Polls – Get instant feedback from employees directly from their Workspace feed.

Advanced workflow automation capabilities are available to trigger custom email updates, approvals and intelligent workflows on top of the actions and feed cards in Workspace.

How do I access?

A new tile within the microapp integrations – in Citrix Cloud - entitled "Citrix Podio": A new microapp integration between Citrix Workspace and Citrix Podio, provides no-code microapps for IT admins. IT admins can now leverage the Citrix Podio as a system of record (SOR), enabling broadcast, FAQ, and survey-based use cases for employee engagement.

What is Citrix Podio?

Citrix-owned low-code/no-code application platform. This cloud-based collaboration tool offers hundreds of app templates through the App Market. This new microapp integration provides a system of record for broadcast, FAQ and survey-based use cases, with future use cases to follow.

Packaging / Pricing

Use the free Podio license to enable a system of record capability. Request a Podio Premium license in order to use advanced automation capabilities.
